

Graham County DSS is taking applications for Social Workers in the Child Protective Services. This position provides social work services in the areas of child protective services, custody and adoption and foster care work, which involves the assessment of individual and family dynamics and needs, serving as expert witness at court hearings, crisis intervention and counseling. Work requires a thorough understanding of social work assessment techniques and treatment approaches primarily of a crisis, supportive and behavioral nature. Work will include state and federal laws and regulations, professional ethics and theories of standard methods and procedures and quality assurance standards. This job is classified as Grades 63 to Grade 69 depending on experience. Work hours are Monday through Friday 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Required training will depend on which Grade that you qualify for. Applications will be taken until position is filled. You hand deliver the application to 196 Knight Street or by mail at 12 North Main Street Robbinsville or email to kim.crisp@grahamcounty.org Pre-employment drug testing and background checks is required. Graham County is an Equal Opportunity Employer.